To Whom It May Concern:

I met Leslie Jacobson several years ago while she was preparing to produce a five-day on-air fundraising auction for KVMR community radio. I had previously produced a similar event for the station and volunteered to help with some of the planning for this event. In the five months that I had the privilege of working with and getting to know Leslie, I found her to be extremely organized and efficient in outlining and accomplishing all tasks necessary to reach her goal of a successful event. She is able to manage multiple tasks, meet deadlines and remain good-natured and positive even in stressful situations. She is an excellent volunteer coordinator, effectively motivating and training her volunteers while maintaining a sense of humor. Her smile and positive attitude have motivated me to volunteer for her in other endeavors following the auction.

As a result of recognizing her skills, I have encouraged Leslie to seek a management position where her talents would be utilized and she would also have the opportunity to benefit an organization that she could feel strongly committed to. I would recommend Leslie for any position that requires an efficient, hardworking, and organized person with good communication skills. It has been a pleasure to be associated with her.
